JUNE

Centenary celebration of University of Delhi

Centenary celebration of University of Delhi – Delhi University celebrates 100 years of academic excellence. Bharati College, organises centenary celebration of University of Delhi on 30th of June,2023.

Vice Chancellor's Dr. Yogesh Singh message on this fruitful occasion :

A moment comes in the history of every institution when it reaches a landmark in terms of its age and obviously such an event is solemnized with memorable accomplishments in terms of various programmes which have commemorative value and which reflects the legacy of the Institution in its various hues and colours in course of its evolution over the years. Centenary celebration is one such occasion for an Institution.

The dignity of such a prestigious occasion demands celebrations of those forgotten years which many of us have either not witnessed or forgotten. Celebration of such a momentous occasion gives us an opportunity to reflect upon our institutional success, achievements and glory and gives us an opportunity to work with more zeal to achieve larger public good and in effect become constructively instrumental in the nation building in our own way through silent but effective measures. This creates an opportunity for even the last man standing in the queue. Such an occasion also bestows us with an opportunity to introspect on our shortcomings as well as not so memorable moments and take corrective measures through effective analysis and its systematic implementation on the ground level.

Department of Music also contributed successfully in the celebration. The conjoint efforts of the department made the event a huge success.
