Our Departmental Society

The Sanskrit Parishad

ABOUT DEPARTMENT

The Department of Sanskrit is one of the oldest departments of Bharati College that was established in the year of 1971, by Late. DR Kumudani Sudhir . It is operated by a galaxy of Seven teachers. The department has devoted itself in spreading the traditional knowledge systems of India and revitalizing the Sanskrit language. Our undergraduate courses are aimed at familiarizing different streams of knowledge specially language and literature to the students and generating a lasting interest in our native knowledge systems in them that will help them in pursuing further studies in this field.

VISION & MISSION

To conduct extra-curricular activities our Department has its own society, namely, Sanskrit Parishad. It functions with the help of the department teachers and students. In Parishad an attempt is made to give an opportunity to our students to refine and polish their overall personality.

The initiatives of Sanskrit Parishad help students in nurturing their inner potentials and building leadership qualities in them. In collaboration with Sanskrit Bharati, Vivekanand Foundation, Urja Yog Foundation and SPARSH the Parishad conducts various workshops where students learn linguistic, yogic and social skills. This helps them in preparing themselves for service of society.

AIM

- It aims to train students in classical Sanskrit in which major works on various disciplines are written.
- It is also aims to train them in important traditional disciplines such as - Vedic studies ; prose, poetry and drama which have inspired and continue to inspire great literary works in almost all Indian languages;
- Students also learn literary criticism or kavya Shastra; vyakarana which covers a large area of linguistics; darshana i.e. philosophy and logic; dharma Shastra which covers many areas of sociology and legal studies.

SWOC

Strength: The department has well qualified committed teachers with aspirations to achieve excellence. The department has been actively working with students to train them in linguistic skills, shloka-recitation, essay-writing, debate competitions, speech competitions and the students have been fetching us rewards, honors and victories to our full satisfaction. Through Panini grammar, the thinking skills and memory skills of the students are enhanced. Ayurveda and yoga-shastra included as the vital parts of the curriculum emphasize on how to keep one's physical, mental, emotional and psychological health in order in the present times.

Weaknesses: The general perception of the subject is not in the favour of attracting advanced students in good numbers. To overcome this, we need to familiarize people and prospective students with benefits Sanskrit can yield.

Future Plans: We plan to familiarize our students with some soft skills such as some practical/theoretical knowledge of manuscriptology, astronomy, acting, stress-management, Vedic Mathematics, Computational Sanskrit and Ayurveda. Soon, we hope to organize some special lectures/workshops on the above cited subjects.

Challenges: Sanskrit, being a classical language, may face declining interest among students due to perceptions of it being old or irrelevant in modern times. Students may find Sanskrit challenging due to their previous studies in the field of science and commerce. Graduates face limited job prospects directly related to Sanskrit, leading to concerns about the practical utility of pursuing the subject. Encouraging broader community engagement and interest in Sanskrit studies beyond the academic setting can be challenging but crucial for its continued relevance and preservation.

The background is a soft, artistic watercolor composition. A large, irregular wash of light pink and pale magenta occupies the center, creating a gentle backdrop. Scattered around and overlapping this central area are numerous delicate, hand-painted flowers in various shades of pink, from soft blush to vibrant magenta. Some flowers have visible yellow centers and fine purple or blue details. Small, dark green and brown specks are also scattered throughout the composition, adding texture and depth. The overall style is romantic and delicate, typical of watercolor art.
