

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) for Economics Courses

Q.1. What are the key skills that student attains from Economics course?

Answer: The study of economics uniquely enriches the student with analytical and problem solving skills in addition to the knowledge of functioning of markets, agent's behavior, and economy at large.

Q.2. How many courses of Economics will the student need to study if she chooses Economics as main option in BA Program?

Answer: Student with Economics as main subject in BA program, studies one course of economics in each of the first four semesters.

Principles of Microeconomics (I and II) and Principles of Macroeconomics (I and II) are taught in first and second year respectively.

Q.3. Is the student required to have Economics and/or Mathematics in class 11th or 12th to opt for Economics as main subject in BA program?

Answer: Unlike honors course, studying Economics in BA Program does not require student to have studied Mathematics or Economics up to Class 12.

Q.4. If student does not opt for Economics as main subject, is there any other way of attaining training in Economics?

Answer: BA program and BCom program students can also choose Economics as their Generic Elective in third year, wherein they can study Economic Development course and Microeconomics (and Macroeconomics) courses respectively.

Q.5. What kind of opportunities can a BA program student with Economics option expect for higher studies?

Answer: Choosing Economics as main subject in BA program can be a passport to an array of related Master's courses, the most obvious being M.A. Economics. Also other relevant postgraduate courses including Business Administration (MBA), Finance, Management, International Relations, Political Science or Public Policy can be studied.

Q.6. How does Economics study expand student's career options?

Answer: The interdisciplinary nature of the subject, compounded with its rigor, opens a plethora of doors for an Economics graduate in areas spanning from Academics, Indian Economic Services (IES), Public Policy, Management, Consulting, Analytics, Finance, Actuarial Science.

Q.7. How does Economics course prepare student for entrance and competitive exams?

Answer: The Economics department offers the opportunity to gather all kind of knowledge on Indian economy, government budget, research methodologies, statistical analysis, data analysis, computational analysis etc. through its skill enhancement courses, which form a core part of most of the entrance and competitive examinations.

Q.8. Is Economics course beneficial for student if she wishes to pursue some other course as main subject?

Answer: Knowledge of Economics beautifully complements many other subject areas, ranging from sociology, psychology, political science, geography, history, law, mathematics, statistics, finance, business and management.

Q.9. Where are Economics students placed?

Answer: Our students are placed across the country holding respectable posts at high levels in government departments and ministries, multinational companies, academic institutions etc.

Q.10. Does student have to declare their subject choice in BA program at the time of admission?

Answer: Yes, the student needs to choose her main subjects in BA program right at the time of admission.

Q.11 After opting for Economics course, is the student able to pursue extra-curricular interests?

Answer: Economics only demands sincerity and consistency in studies and in no way constrains the student to pursue her extra-curricular interests. Our students not only participate, but excel in sports, music, dance, dramatics etc.

Q.12. Does a student need to put in too much effort to successfully complete the Economics course?

Answer: Our students have smoothly obtained their degrees in this course and reported to have cherished studying Economics; however, it does require sincerity and regularity in studies.

Q.13. If a student is weak in Economics, how and how often can she approach a professor to work on it?

Answer: The Economics faculty is highly dedicated towards students and is easily approachable in college hours for all kinds of extra help and support, not only in Economics discipline, but also for any other problems that student faces.