The Nari Shakti Conclave is an annual event that celebrates the remarkable achievements of women across India. It serves as a platform to recognize their contributions, discuss critical issues, and inspire future generations. In this report, we delve into the recent Nari Shakti Conclaves held in New Delhi. This year, the conclave took place in DU Indoor Campus on 7th March 2024 with Smriti Irani (Hon'ble Minister of Women, Child Development, and Minority Affairs) as the guest. The conclave aimed to highlight the pivotal role played by young women in the journey towards a developed India (Viksit Bharat). It emphasised education, leadership, and equal opportunities for women. Bharati College also took part in this event with over a 100 students participating.
