Total number of Students/ Participants attended the session: 15

Date: 27/05/2020

Speaker: Mr. Harish, A.C. is a Guest Speaker Swinburne University Of Technology, Nutanix, Sydney. Mr. Kedar, D. is a Guest Speaker, University of Washington Seattle, ESSEC Business School.

Type: Webinar

Objective of programme:

- To provide exposure to the student about higher studies procedure after COVID.
- To develop the understanding among students about corporate expectation from a fresher after COVID

Summary of the event:

Session was commenced with welcome note of the speakers. Mr. Harish, started the session by congratulating everyone of doing good in the time of COVID. He talked about global education and its benefits. He also informed the participants that though global education is very expensive but now more and more universities are planning to offer high studies in online mode very soon. He also motivated the students to look for option that is suitable to their interest as well as pocket. He also emphasized on doing diploma or add-on courses that are comparatively cheap being charged on module basis. In similar line, Mr. Kedar discussed about the current scenario. He expressed his concern in regard to job opportunities. He informed the participants that right now job curve is very skewed. Companies are actively forced to do layoffs. He emphasized now it is more important to be market ready than ever, especially for a fresher. He said “a fresher mostly choose either higher education or job. And thanks to pandemic none of the option is not easily accessible”. One need to understand the need of AI based skill to secure a good job. And thereby we all should strive to do such courses which help in increasing such skills. Mr. Kedar asked students to be global employee and he encouraged students to undertake internship and learn new skills as well. Lastly speakers tried to resolved queries regarding overseas education, expenditure, type of internship. Session ended with vote of thanks.
