education is life itself.)

ABOUT THE COLLEGE AND IQAC

A constituent institute of University of Delhi, Bharati College is one of the leading women's colleges in west Delhi. The college currently caters to more than 2,000 students offering instruction in eleven disciplines. The college boasts of premium-quality infrastructure which includes a fully-digitized library, three computer labs, classrooms equipped with latest technology and a sizeable playground. The College participated in the India Today-MDRA All India College Ranking Survey and was ranked 36 and 74 (out of 100) in the Commerce and Arts streams respectively.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Bharati College has been proactively working to monitor, evaluate and facilitate the teaching-learning process. To achieve satisfactory results, the IQAC has taken several initiatives which have benefitted the institute in myriad ways. The committee, in association with District Disaster Management Authority, conducted an Awareness Programme. Apart from this, an MOU with the firm 'Green O Tech' to reuse the waste paper was also signed in the guidance of IQAC.

The IQAC has also been running Training and Placement Cell for the students, which organizes various workshops aimed at inculcating new skills.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

This faculty development program focuses on pedagogy and research for holistic growth and understanding of the teachers working in higher education.

The rapid transformation in the social conditions around us also requires the educators to not just adapt to it but also stay informed and educated. This FDP has been planned to achieve this objective.

During the seven-day workshop, the educators will receive fresh inputs related to the field of research, critical pedagogy, stress management, media literacy, etc.

The program has been named – Interdisciplinary approach to pedagogy and research – as it tries to focus primarily on these two areas. Goal is to enable the educators carry out high-quality research and also experiment with innovative teaching methods in the classroom spaces.
