Hestia, the Departmental Society of Sociology Department has always been active in conducting various talk sessions, lectures and workshops for their students to get the best out of them. Through courses on Indian society, political, economic, religion, kinship and family, gender and social stratification they have a fine grasp of social structures, processes, institutions, cultural diversities and dynamics of social change. They are trained to spot social patterns and trends and seek causation at the level of social and cultural collectives to explain the observed social regularities. They are averse to attaching undue causal weight to individual subjective understandings and are resistant to unfounded ethnocentric assumptions. They become well equipped to mobilize their sociological knowledge and generic skills for a variety of purposes apart from academic pursuit of the discipline. Sociology students are equipped to grasp vast quantities of diversely textured complex material and synthesize it into coherent and cogent arguments backed by evidence. The lecture was an insightful event and most of the students asked their queries or added comments to what the speaker had shared with everyone.
